

Tewksbury students take a trip to the past

Fri Nov 13, 2009

Tewksbury - Tewksbury Memorial High School's 10th-grade world studies classes recently enjoyed a trip to Old Sturbridge Village.

In conjunction with their unit on Industrial Revolution, the students experienced the farm to factory connections many people underwent in the 1800s.

The trip was partially funded by a grant from the Big Yellow School Bus, a partnership between the Bank of America Charitable Foundation and the Massachusetts Cultural Council (MCC), which provides grants to help schools meet the transportation costs of educational field trips to cultural institutions and events.

Tewksbury Memorial High School students visit Old Sturbridge Village. Left to right, Katelyn Hirsh, Grace Carew, Ashley Berquist, Rebecca Clark, Courtney Spinelli, Lindsey McQuesten, Jordyn LeBlanc, Kaylie Cronin, Sarah Hogan, Maria Correa, Maggie Middleton, Olivia Wright.