

August 3, 2010

Lifestyle

The rebels are coming

Henry W. Rutkowski

Danvers resident Henry Rutkowski will join more than 800 other re-enactors in the Old Sturbridge Village Rebels & Redcoats showdown Aug. 7 and 8.

With fellow members of the Danvers Alarm List Company, Rutkowski will represent the American side in one of the largest such re-enactments in the country. More than 40 units will conduct mock battles with muskets, cannons and artillery fire. They'll demonstrate marching and drilling and entertain visitors with fife and drum music. British units and their Irish, Welsh and Scottish allies will camp on the Old Sturbridge Village Common, and units portraying Colonial Minutemen and their French allies will be camped throughout the Village countryside.